Claim Objection

Claim 14 is objected to under 37 CFR 1.75(c), as being of improper dependent form for failing to further limit the subject matter of a previous claim. Applicant is required to cancel the claim(s), or amend the claim(s) to place the claim(s) in proper dependent form, or rewrite the claim(s) in independent form. Claim 14 is to a process and is referring to elements of claim 8 which are not determinable. Regardless, such inclusion by reference is impermissible and the claim needs to be drafted as an independent claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 11 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

A broad range or limitation together with a narrow range or limitation that falls within the broad range or limitation (in the same claim) is considered indefinite, since the resulting claim does not clearly set forth the metes and bounds of the patent protection desired. Note the explanation given by the Board of Patent Appeals and Interferences in Ex parte Wu, 10 USPQ2d 2031, 2033 (Bd. Pat. App. & Inter. 1989), as to where broad language is followed by "such as" and then narrow language. The

Art Unit: 1711

Board stated that this can render a claim indefinite by raising a question or doubt as to whether the feature introduced by such language is (a) merely exemplary of the remainder of the claim, and therefore not required, or (b) a required feature of the claims. Note also, for example, the decisions of Ex parte Steigewald, 131 USPQ 74 (Bd. App. 1961); Ex parte Hall, 83 USPQ 38 (Bd. App. 1948); and Ex parte Hasche, 86 USPQ 481 (Bd. App. 1949). In the present instance, claims 11 and 12 recite the broad recitation of sphere sizes, and the claims also recite narrower recitation of sphere sizes which are the narrower statement of the range/limitation.

Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 recites the terminology "and/or" in reference to their microspheres state of inflation, but in claim 14 indicates the requirement of expanded microspheres being included. Claims need to be clarified to clearly reflect whether expanded microspheres are required or if unexpanded and expanded microspheres are interchangeably optional as the language "and/or" suggests.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

Art Unit: 1711

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 8-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Castelli et al.(6,287,638).

Castelli et al. discloses preparations of compressible polyurethane materials wherein thermoplastic microspheres inclusive of the vinylidene halide/acrylate copolymers are utilized and of the diameters claimed are admixed with a thermoplastic polymer inclusive of polyurethane and administered to a substrate material via a knife over roll spreader to arrive at products and processes as claimed by applicants (see column 2 lines 54-62, column 4 line 35-column 6 line 47, and column 9 line 54-column 10 line 46, as well as, the entire document). Applicants additional limitation of a thin surface layer of urethane at the materials surface is seen to be inherent to the teachings of the cited reference as the microcapsules are mixed within the thermoplastic material thus having thermoplastic material at the surfaces.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Hurley et al. and Shrimpton et al. are cited for their disclosures of relevant microsphere containing materials in the art.
